OUR STORY

Murphy's has been a fixture at the corner of Waveland and Sheffield in Wrigleyville for over 80 years.

Opening as prohibition ended in the early 30's as Ernie's Bleachers, selling hot dogs and pails of beer, the name changed to Ray's Bleachers in the 60's, where it became home of the legendary Bleacher Bums.

It became the legend it is today when Chicago Police Detective Jim Murphy took over in 1980 and changed the name to Murphy's Bleachers.

Jim had a vision that transformed an entire neighborhood. He understood the draw of historic Wrigley Field and allure of cold beer on a sunny day.

Besides expanding his tavern inside
